Dana Trevino shared her concerns with drenching and the Veterinarian's instructions clarifying hydration and/or body modification. Shirra Bohlender suggested on tack placement if putting the goats near the sheep as they show on different days. Shirra continued to comment her Veterinarian had provided her with a written letter for nutrition as she followed the rules from the Fair book. Shirra continued to state educating the public is essential. Ellen commented she agreed with Shirra when a rule was followed. Casey Styvar commented it is about the education. Dana reviewed the Fair book rule and additional discussion was held. Kim suggested education information on the stall cards for the public to ask or read, like the muzzles. Liz commented that other counties have a good explanation of their rules and ours needs to be clarified. Heidi Vossler commented on a heifer that was hurt when it arrived at fair and the superintendent required the veterinarian to be there for the injections. She asked does the veterinarian have to be present with a script for treatment.
